

A black and white photograph of a multi-story building. The building's facade is covered in a checkered or mosaic pattern. A balcony on the upper floor has a metal railing. A large, dark, possibly wooden door is visible on the ground floor. Laundry, including a striped cloth and a white cloth, is hanging on a line in the foreground. To the left, another building is partially visible. The number 1694 is overlaid in a white box in the center of the image.
